

International Conference on Engineering Education and Research iCEER-2004, Bouzov Castle, Czech Republic, June 27-30, 2004

CALL FOR PAPERS #11

LANGUAGE AND COMMUNICATION IN ENGINEERING EDUCATION

The importance of communication and knowledge of languages is firmly established in all fields of engineering. The number of international student exchange programmes and collaborative teaching projects are greatly growing, as well as engineering projects, which require international collaboration and teamwork. Engineering graduates are often expected to operate in an international arena. This session is addressing the following issues:

- Research on Languages for Engineering (Special) Purposes (LSP)
- Innovative language teaching and learning materials
- ICT-based language learning and teaching
- New Learning Environments
- CALL multimedia courseware
- Web-enhanced Language Learning
- Language issues in student and teacher mobility (international exchanges)
- Language policy in conjunction with textbook authoring

This conference emphasizes development of international partnerships in education and research. Through special sessions and international workshops, it provides ample opportunity for discussing future cooperative projects.
